DR. STRAUS, SURGEON DENTIST,

WOULD inform the citizens of Louisville and its vicinity, that he has located limself here permanently, for the purpose of practicing his profession in all its various branches, after the latest and most approved siyle. Having practiced for the last twenty years in New Orleans, I feet confident of giving satisfaction to every one who may honor me with a call. I would call the particular attention of the public to my mode of filling teeth, which is done in such a manner as to get twice the amount of gold into a cavity, as done in the usnat way. I can, therefore, "guarantee" every tooth plugged in such manner to be as good as if never decayed.

Artificial teeth inserled—from one to an entire set—nat only for beauty, but also for use, with or without suction, such as the case may require. Teeth extracted with as little pain as possible, and sil other operations pertaining to dentistry.

DRS. FITTZ & WILSON,

HAVING had the advantage of a thorough Dental education, offer their Professional services to the chilzens of Louisville and vicinity. Dr. Fittz's skill in Mechanical Dentistry can be seen at their office, specimens of which took the first Premium and Diploma at the United States Fair in 1887. Dr. Wilsonhas been treating aching teeth successfully for the last five ye'rs by destroying the nerve without pain, filing the fangs and crown with gold, rest ring the tooth toits natural shape, and making it as useful as before decay. Do not have your teeth extracted until you are certain they cannot be saved.—More than fifty percent, of the teeth usually extracted can be made useful through life. We are daily treating and filling teeth of this class that comes in to be extracted. In no case do we disfigure a tooth by filing to fill it, using other and better means than the indiscriminate use of the file. Any tooth can be filled with gold that is worth filling at all. We use, when requested, a local anesthesia to prevent pain in extracting teeth.

All operations warranted as represented, and terms as liberals as any good bentlyt can afford.

N. B.—Cail and have your teeth examined and our advice graviz.

LOUISVILLE THEATER-CHANGE IN THE MANAGE-MENT.-We are gratified to announce that our old friend, and the favorite of the Louisville public, Mr. Geo. Mellus, re-appears as manager of the Louisrille theater-a position he filled years ago with eredit to himself, satisfaction to the patrons of the drama, and profit to the lessee. In his career here, Mr. Mellus, by his universal cleverness as a man, and tact and judiciousness as a manager, secured the friendship and commandation of all who knew him. We doubt that any one in a similar position ever won such true and lasting friends, and as many of them. The patrons of the drama will warmly welcome back Mellus to a place he will fill so well.

We are glad to know in the changing that may ecur in the inauguration of a new management. our old friend, "genial" Jack Lorton, continues as stage manager. In that capacity, Jack Lorton s peer to the best in the land, while as an actor his general excellence is proverbial among those who appreciate good acting.

Mr. James Andersou, the eminent tragedian ommences an engagement to-night, and appears his admired character of "Hamlet." Miss Ida ernon personates Ophelia, and Lorton "Polonus." The cast otherwise is quite good.

THE JEFFERSONVILLE FEREY .- This ferry is a nouopoly, and the proprietors should try to meet the wants of the public, or at least advertise their running arrangements, so that travelers need not be delayed or disappointed. On Saturday evening one of the ferry boats, the Black ocust, ceased running, and tied up at the Jeffersonville shore before 5 o'clock, leaving a dozen or nore foot passengers, a horseman, a buggy, and a couple of wagons on the shore, where they were ompelled to await the arrival of the other ferry boat, which had not left the Kentucky shore when she "laid up." By this arrangement these pasengers were delayed over an hour in their arrival Louisville, which was a serious disappointment several, as well as a great inconvenience, to ay nothing of the vexatious delay and exposure the unpleasant weather that evening. The proprietors and managers of the lerry can ot certainly be aware of this tying up arrangeient so early in the afternoon, and that too when assengers were on the ferry dock some time waiting the arrival of that boat. Sales or Tobacco. - By referring to our commer ial summary, it will be seen that the inspec ons and sales of tobacco during the year have nounted to 18,965 hogsheads, with a stock on and in warehouses, not yet inspected or sold, of 205 hogsheads, making a total of 19,170 hogs-eads, against 9,012 hogsheads the previous year. The tobacco year commences on the 1st of No ember, and ends with the 31st of October, and, of ourse, the new year begins to-day. The new erop comises to be not only a full average one, but the quality is expected to be very fine, and we ave no doubt that the inspections, at the close of the year, will sum up 20,000 hogsheads. GREAT SALE OF STOCK .- The borse stock of G. Drummond Hunt, Esq., at his public sale, in Fay-

White, for the murder of Mike Harman, was postponed, after entering into trial, by reason of the sickness of a material witness for the defense .-

THE COLUMBUS SUICIDE. - The telegraph told us n Thursday morning of a tragic affair at Columous, Indiana, which equals or surpasses the most terrific denoument of a melo-drama. A suitor in a court of justice, in a frenzy of disappointment at an unfavorable verdict, draws a pistol, and kills himself right in the court house, before the judge, bar, jury and spectators. The Columbus Democrat thus describes the affair, and the causes that led to it:

On Wednesday last, at the court room, soon after the meeting of court in the afternoon, one of the most terrible tragedies was enacted that ever transpired in a court of justice, or indeed anywhere else where clse.

It appears that a judgment had sometime since been obtained against William Mewherter, an old and well known citizen of this county, and that an execution had been issued upon it against his property, but the sheriff not being able to find anything to satisfy the execution, had returned it propertied. The plaintiff—believed that Mewherter had pro-erty which ought to be applied to the payment f his judgment, instituted proceedings in the fircuit Court, to charge the body of Mewherter in xecution, under the statute of the State, and the execution, under the statute of the State, and the rial came on at this term of the Circuit Court, udge Spencer presiding. A jury was empantelled to try the question whether Mewherter had oncealed his property, contrary to law, which night to have gone to pay this debt. It seems that many witnesses were examined on both sides, and after a thorough and tedious trial ind investigation of the case, at about 3 o'clock. '. M., the jury returned into court a verdict inding that he had in hands unaccounted for, were teu thousand dullars. At the time of the unding that he had in hands unaccounted for, over ten thousand dollars. At the time of the announcement of the verdict, the court room was densely crowded. Mewherter took a position to the right of the judge's desk, in front and between the jury box and the judge, and there, in pursuance to his oft repeated declaration, took his own life, by shooting himself through the breast. I'pon the discharge of the pistol he sprang into the air and fell dying upon the floor.

Much exertement was the result of this terrible denouement—timespected to many, unlooked for uouenent—tinexpected to many, unlooked for all. Court immediately adjourned over to nursday. Amid the excitement, there seems to a disposition with a few to censuro this one and nat one, but from what we have been able to arn in reference to it, we do not understand that ny blame, in any way, justly attaches to the liv-g, either to the court, jury, or counsel. Ife leaves, we learn, a wife and two small chil-ren, to monro his untimely and terrible end.—

ith them we sincerely sympathise. Fearful Casualty-Five Men Hurt-One Killed About two o'clock, yesterday afternoon, the cof of a three story house, owned by R. M. Bryan, n course of crection by the Sexton, on Washington avenue, near the junction of Seventeenth Drummond Hunt, Esq., at his public sale, in Fayette, on Thursday, commanded very high prices. His old premium mare Highlander, tourteen years old, brought $602; her sucking colt, by Edwin Forrest, $405; her two year old colt, by Membrino Chief, $305. A yearling stellion colt, by Edwin Forrest, out of Ellen, by Berthune, and Ellen out of the Highlander mare, brought $615. Ellen was retained by Mr. Hunt. Several fine geldings were sold at prices rauging from $185 to $310.—

SEDUCTION AND SUICIDE IN EAST TENNESSEE.-

The Greenville Democrat of the 26th has the following:
On Wednesday morning of last week, a young Mr. Chase, of Washington county, Tenn., having gone to the barn to feed the stock, was startled with the awful and overwhelming sight of his mother, hanging in the barn dead, having committed suicide. The young man called to his father, Jeremiah Chase, who was the husband of this unfortunate woman, for relief in assisting him to take her down, and what a trying scene for the husband and son.

Post Prandial Reading. "Much depends upon when and where you read a book. In the five or six impatient moments before the dinner is quite ready, who would think of taking up the Fairy Queen, for a stop-gap, or volume of Bishop An-drews?"—Lamb.

There are certain books for certain hours and laces, and that which would be a delight at one ime, would, at another, be as soporific as a good ld fashioned sermon on a summer day, or as irritative as the phillippies hurled against our favortative as the phillippies hurled against our favorite "institution" or partizan. Are not Dickens' tender Christmas stories to be bail in $2,000, at Woodbury, Tennessee, on the charge of bigamy.

Are not blezens tender christmas states to be read by the soft light of the lamp, while the home group is gathered around the fireside? There are certain volumes peculiarly appropriate and pleasant for the atter-dinner bours. Who cares, then for the learned disquisitions, metaphysics, or the mysterius of the occult sciences? Our mood is changeful. The most delightful volume wins only a cursory reading. We would, like the bee, fly from flower to flower, gathering sweets from every honeyed blossom.

It is an October evening; the sun shines radiently, flashing gleams of light on the autumntinted foliage, and the few "last roses of summer." The dinner is over—it was a good one—capital Are we tired of dreaming, eastle-building, even the dolce jar trients of the hour? Then let us leave the drawing-room, and enter the library. Let us close the Venetian blinds, and soften the light. Here is a good old easy chair, a benediction on all "easy chairs;" let us draw it to the window, and enseence ourselves in its wide-spreading arms. Gently, pleasantly, the autumn wind steals in at the half-closed blind, cooling our cheeks, still flushed by the Luchryma Christi.

How shall we begin our afternoon reading." Here How shall we begin our afternoon reading? Here is a well-worn volume. We can reach it, as we indelently recline—"Elia's Essays." Are we still impressed with the merits of some favorite dish which graced the table. Let us turn to the eloquent dissertation on "Roast Pig," and thank there for such a champion of a "creature comfort."

Has the plum pudding left a heaviness we fain would laugh away? Then let us read that facetious, sparkling essay on "Imperfect Sympathies"—and we may add the chapter on "My Relations." In the latter, what beautifully drawn pictures, with "those fine Shandian lights and shades," the true artist alone can give. Are we in a half dreaming state, thinking more of the ideal than the real world? Then how pleasantly will chime in with our mood, that exquisitely beautiful dream, "The Child Angel." Poor Vizier, so near, and yet so far from the beautiful "Abbassa," with the "star-sweet" face, do you wonder he was disloyal to the grand Caliph, rather than disloyal to love and nature.

These heart histories are saddening—shall we leave them, and go wandering with the most delightful tourists, who ever crossed the seas, or lingered on consecrated gronnd. Judge Muir required an affidavit, which stated that the defense would prove by said witness that Harman was the aggressor in the affair which resulted in his death. The materiality of the testimony was undoubted and the judge ordered the jury discharged. Subsequently the counsel for the defense made a motion that the accused be admitted to bail, as his case (in the opinion of the defense could not possibly be made more than manulaughter. Mr. Craig, for the Commouweatth, said he did not resist the motion, and the court fixed the bail at $2,000. It has not yet been given.

The politicians of Illinois are in the agonies of their "last words" to the voters, before the conclusion of the long, stormy, exciting and important canvass of that State, which has been regarded with solicitude by all intelligent men in the nation, and is within a few daya of its close. The Orient—"lotus fragrance blows outward from that name, and steeps us in biasful dreams." Eutraneed we wander through the dusky palm-groves, listening to the sweet, sad, voluptuous song of the trees, that "wave in the low moonlight wind." Through the nargileh clouds, we see the witching Ghazeeyah, exveloped in the rosy, misty radiance of oriental dress, and palpitating in the mazes of the passionate dance. With the Howadji, we offer homage to the mystic Memony, who sits gand and regal, "throwed upon runed Thebes;" and we gaze upon the Sphinx, that "breaths mysteries more magical, and rarer romainees of the mountains of the moon and the Nile sources, than ever Arabian imagination dreamed."
What charmed memories for a lifetime this hour's reading has given us. What sparkling images of the Nile—the golden sunset, the tropical monlights, the "rosy pyramids," the doveyed Xenobi—the fascination, the richness, the voluptious beanty of life in the East. Ohthe delicious languor, the luxurions repose, the wildering enchantment, that enthrals ns now. It is sad to come out of "Egypt, that dreamland, that tropical trance!" And yet it is dangerous to linger longer in such sedictive scenes.

Here is a volume of Tennyson. Let us read "Locksley Hall." There is no oriental sweetness, subtle and intoxicating, in this. But it is a noble poem, earnest and sonliul, and we feel ourselves better and trner for what we have read. And now we will turn to some of the exquisite little songs, treasured in every heart. This wild dirge-like sea song, wailing as the wave-sighs! Is it not touchingly beautiful! Ah' how sadly comes to the character as sexpen. "Sweet and low, sweet and low, Wind of the western sea; Low, low, breathe and blow, Wind of the western sea; O'er the rolling waters go, Come from the dying moon, and blow, Blow him again to me!

Ah! let us breathe it softly, it is hallowed now. Where is the fair little one we pressed to our bosom and soothed with the simple air? There is no need to chant the soft song by the tiny grave, where the daisies grow very quietly. The little sleeper is resting there. How tenderly, yet sor rowfully, we go back to the past, with its treas ured memories. We are thinking now of the last time we sang the sweet song, striving to soothe the little softerer; how we kissed the flushed cheek, and put back the waving bair from the fevered brow; how we prayed Heaven it might not be; and how the song grew into a wild wailing, a mourning requiem, as the quick short breathing ceased, and the dark eves peacefully closed, and the lattle child slept his last sleep.

Ah! it is a little song to call up this beantiful picture, draped in mourning. Now we will close the book. The tears linger blindingly, and we cannot read. The deep solemn moonlight has come on; the autumn wind breathes softly and sally, add the angel chorister sings sobgs of peace, and love, and trust to our yearning hearts.

It is very certain that our city does not owe debts enough to fix such a low value upon her Sam himself. They have never been questioned by any one who has taken the pains to inform himself as to their value. The interest upon their is punctually paid at the expiration of every six months, and the principal will be paid at maturi ty, just as sure as the time of their falling due shall bereafter arrive.

The entire indebtedness of Lousville, including nearly two millions of contingent and conditional liabilities which may never come upon her, is less than $3, and an offset against this, she holds more than $4,000,000 worth of property in her own name, while the assessed value of the bound forsethe liabi ities, an ounts to $35,000,000. Any paper upon which the corporate name of Lonisville appears, is, therefore, good for its face beyond all question.

Why, then, are her bonds thus sacrificed in the stock market. The reason is plain to any one who looks at the matter properly. The following reasons will suffice for an explanation, though others might he very readily given:

1. We have no Anditor's report showing the condition of our cit; finances. The report was due the 11th of March last, and we have it not up to this time. Many persons, therefore, fear that s mething is wr nr. and that a good financial showing cannot be made.

The lesser lights of the Know Nothing press in this State have followed the lead of the Journal, and we are really to have what is called an opposition convention on the 22d of February. We prefer calling it the free nigger convention, for that is what it is.

The Horace Bell outrage seems about to fizzle out. The pot-valiant editor of the New Albauy Tribune will be satisfied with the release of Rell on batl, too small for a felonious jail-deliverer, and too large for an illegal and outrageous arrest. What is to be done in the case of the five Louisville watchmen? We jugist that Governor Willard shall vindicate the honor of Indiana, and the principles of State sovercignty and international law by demanding them from the Governor of Kentucky. Previous outrages have nothing to do with this. We urge this course, because we understand that the Louisvillo police, almost to a man, declare that they will not serve any warrant, issued against their fillibustering brethren on this charge. We are anxious to see how a triangular fight between the Governor of Indiana, the Governor of Kentucky and the independent jail clique sovereignty of Louisville would result. We feel pretty sure that the last would prevail. Our own Louisville without authority of law, braved the agined they could extend their jurisdiction and tection. For our part, we hope Governor Willard one Hoosier jail breaker, and in fact we think Louisville could well afford to part with her whole city government on the same terms. Stiffen up your backbone, Governor Willard, and issue your requisition. Is the capture no offense?

FRANKFORT, Wednesday, Oct. 27.
United States vs. T. Q. Carter; indictment for forgery, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 5.
These several indictments were returned by the Grand Jury, at the present term, for distinct offenses, charged to have been committed by the detendant, in forging letters purporting to come from postmasters, addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, and asking for the transmission to them of postage stamps and stamped envelopes, post bills, and other things apperlaining to the business of a postallice. The indictinents alleged that the betters were falsely and tradulently forged, attered, and published by the delembant knowing them to be false, forged, and counterteit, with the intent and for the purpose of delrauding the United States out of a large quantity of pustage stamps, stamped envelopes, etc., of it was not. It was decided that the forged requisition for stamps and stamped cuvelopes, although a fraul upon the government, yet was not provided against in the act, which makes it a felony for any person to forge any writing, certificate, claim, or demand upon the United States, or to utter and publish the same as true, knowing it to be false and forged, with the intent and for the purpose of defrauding the United States out of any sum or sams of money. Stamps, and stamped envelopes not being money, a demand or claim for such could not be construed into a demand for moneys; hence the offense was not within the terms of the act, and the indictments were accordingly dismissed.

Competent judges who have tried them pronounce them fully equal, if not superior, to the Steinway & Son's Pianos. They are a beautiful, highly finished instrument, and we can sell them at three-fourths the price of a Chickering Piano, as we do not have to pay anything for their name or reputation. We still keep a full supply of the New and Improved Scale of Chickering & Son's Grand, Pailor Grand, and Square Pianos, and as we are Cash Dealers in them, we can sell them unusually low for cash.
